

EMBARGO ON FOOD STUFFS IS ORDERED

PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION
WILL PUT SHIPPING CONTROL
IN HANDS OF BRITAIN AND AMERICA.

BARS GOODS TO ENEMY

Every Effort Will Be Made to Prevent Supplies Reaching the Central Powers—May Reduce Prices.

Washington, July 9.—Government
control of American exports, authorized in a provision of the espionage
act, was ordered put into operation
July 15 by President Wilson in a proclamation putting under license shipments to all countries of the most important export commodities.

In a statement accompanying the proclamation the president declared that the government's policy will be to give consideration to American interests, next, to meet as far as possible the requirements of the allies,
and lastly, to supply the neutral countries where practicable. It was made clear that every effort will be made to see that no supplies reach
the central powers.

Commodities on List.
The commodities named in the list
put under control are coal, coke, fuel,
oil, kerosene and gasoline, including
bunkers, food grains, flour and meal,
tobacco, meat and fats, pig iron, steel billets, ship plates and structural shapes, scrap iron and scrap steel, ferro manganese, ferri-lites, arms, ammunition and explosives.

The inclusion of foodstuffs in the proclamation lends color to statements that the administration is considering the possibility of a complete embargo for sixty days on all food
shipments to give the country
time to ascertain the amount of its supplies and to give allied and neutral countries an opportunity to present a full program of their requirements.

May Lower Prices.
Many experts assert that the present
high prices for necessities are due largely to the tremendous amount of food and fuel recently purchased for export from the United States.
The president in his statement said
the government was trying to prevent such purchases under conditions
and at prices that are expected to arise between now and the next harvest.

Many officials, alarmed at the wheat shortage, have been making on every kind of American food supplies, are urging an immediate embargo on food
shipments.

Control All Shipping.
Through control of coal and fuels
the government can take a handle on shipping. An arrangement under negotiation will give the control of not only all allied tonnage
but of neutral vessels as well.

Ships now on the coast are regarded as necessary to a successful conduct of the war will be forced into trades
considered more essential, and vessels now held in port through lack of supplies will be required to go into service.

Control of iron and steel was made necessary by war demands on the iron and steel industries.

Will Force Japan.
A shortage of meat in this country
is threatened because of the large amount which is being diverted to nutritious manufacture and the construction of the government's merchant fleet.

Japan's heavy purchases of steel plates for merchant shipbuilding
make necessary that plates be put under control. At the same time a restriction on the export of a weapon which will force Japanese tonnage into the trans-Atlantic trades.
Specific regulation governing food
exports and shipments of other commodities named in today's list are expected to be issued by the president in a few days.

May Keep Food Here.
Even if a complete embargo is not placed on food exports for a time it is known many restrictions will be made.

The exports council, comprising
three cabinet officers and the food administrator, are drawing up a program to be submitted to the president
immediately.
Argument advanced by advocates of a complete embargo on food
shipments is that the neutral countries and the allies have presented entirely different statements regarding the amount of foodstuffs going from the neutral countries into Germany. It is argued also that the neutrals cannot be treated all alike.
The United States is in a position
varying conditions in Holland
and in the Scandinavian countries.

FARMERS' DELEGATES MEET TO ORGANIZE

St. Paul, July 9.—Representatives of farmers' organizations and cooperative societies throughout the country for a total membership
exceeding 5,000,000 met in this city
today for the purpose of organizing a national co-operative buying and selling society for the benefit of their members.

The first step to organize the new society was taken last December when the National Society of Equity appointed a committee to interest other co-operative bodies. While the National Society of Equity is leading in the movement it is explained that the proposed society will include in its membership laborers, mechanics and other workers as well as farmers.
The trade unions of the country it is said, will be asked to lend their assistance.

The plan to be devised is expected to follow closely along the lines of the Rochdale society in England which is said to do an annual business of $2,000,000.

Whiskey Firm Quits; Claim Many Saloons Will Be Forced Out

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Chicago, July 9.—Chapin & Gore,
for sixty years one of the largest whiskey manufacturing firms in the country, is to go out of business, Chas.
H. Hermann, president of the firm announced today.
Mr. Hermann, who is also at the head of the National Distillers and Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association predicted that within sixty days
at least two thousand saloons in Chicago would be forced out of business
by the national anti-whiskey legislation and that a like proportion throughout the country would be similarly effected.

U. S. AIR SQUADRON IN RECORD FLIGHT

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Chicago, July 9.—What is believed to have been the longest squadron
flight of any aircraft in the world was successfully accomplished today. Twenty-three aeroplanes under Captain Roy S. Brown of the signal corps took the air this morning from the aviation field at Ashburn, a suburb, and flew
in one hour and thirty-five minutes,
practically a mile a minute, to Rantoul, near Champaign, Ill.
One plane landed twelve miles from Rantoul for gasoline, but arose with little delay.
The departure of the fliers marked
the abandonment of Ashburn as a training camp for aviators, as the government was unable to obtain additional land needed there without paying what it considered too high a price.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Washington, July 9.—Five men were killed and thirty-one injured
in an explosion which wrecked two store houses at the Mare Island Navy yard today according to the commandant's report
to the Navy Department.
Vallejo, Cal., July 9.—A report that eight men had been killed in the black powder storehouse explosion at Mare Island navy yards was received here this morning. Navy officials admitted that a "great number" of men
had been injured.

Orders that no person be allowed to leave Mare Island were issued by Captain Harry George, commandant
of the navy yards, after the explosion
and the number of casualties have not been made. Mare Island is just across the narrow channel from Vallejo.

Among the injured were three men
on the Southern Pacific ferryboat El

South Vallejo and Vallejo Junction.
The ferryboat was in the stream about

Storehouses Destroyed.
San Francisco, July 9.—Two store-
houses at the Mare Island navy yard
on San Francisco Bay, were destroyed
by an explosion this morning.

Whether any lives were lost has not been determined. Two of the seven magazines were badly damaged
by an explosion, the force of which broke thousands of windows in Vallejo, about half a mile away. Fire started in the wrecked building and desperate efforts were made to prevent its spread to other buildings
where explosives are stored. Several buildings used as sleeping quarters
for detachments of the army were wrecked. Whether any men were in the buildings is not known.

Explosion Felt for Miles.
The concussion was felt for miles,
and considerable damage, principally
to glass, is reported at points two miles away from the explosion. Rosa, about forty miles northwest, reported the explosion was felt there. Residents thought it was an earthquake.

RECORD CORN CROP FORECAST FOR U. S.

Washington, July 9.—A three billion bushel prospective crop of corn
this year is the answer returned by farmers of the United States to a survey by the U. S. department of agriculture for food for America's allies in the war. Never has such a crop been grown.
The forecast made by the department of agriculture, based on July 1st
figures, is based, puts the crop
at 3,124,000,000 bushels. Sixteen million more acres were planted to corn
this year than last.
Other production forecasts announced by the federal authorities today yields of 402,000,000 bushels of winter wheat, 276,000,000 bushels of spring wheat, and 678,000,000 bushels
of oats.

A record crop of white potatoes also
is forecast with a production of 452, 000,000 bushels. That would exceed the previous largest crop grown in 1916 by 32,000,000 bushels.
Prospects of the rye crop shows a slight decrease from the June forecast, but the production will be a record with a total of 55,100,000 bushels.

PENROSE ASKS DATA ON OFFICIAL NEWS ISSUED BY BUREAU

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Washington, July 9.—Senator Penrose today introduced a resolution to call upon the secretary of the navy
for the official report of Rear Admiral Gleaves regarding the submarine attack upon the American expedition to France, and for information regarding the personnel, military independence of the bureau of public information.
The senator said his action was caused by the widespread criticism
all over the country of the performance of the Bureau of Public Information.

He referred particularly to the story of the submarine attack as issued by the committee in Secretary
Danahy's name elaborating Admiral Gleaves' report. The resolution which will be pressed for passage tomorrow
would ask also for the committee's rules and regulations and the causes
for the "frequent changes in such rules," especially regarding cable
messages.

Congress was asked by Secretary
Danahy today to appropriate $45-
000,000 for naval aeronautics in addition to the amount carried in this year's appropriation bill. The navy is planning out a considerable air program of its own aside from the great $625,000,000 military aircraft project
of the defense council.

WARNS SOUTH AFRICA AGAINST REBELLION

Capetown, South Africa, July 9.—A grave warning against propaganda
aiming at the political independence of South Africa has just been issued broadcast by General Botha. His statement follows:
"Members of the South African party must not allow themselves to be misled by false and misleading propaganda for independence. The proposal is now being made merely to win votes at the provincial elections by an appeal to sentiment,
and not to the sound sense of the people."
"The proposal is wholly impracticable, and is moreover very dangerous, because it is based on a policy of race hatred and division,
and is in the end a policy of self-
destruction."

GERMAN FINANCIAL POWER CONCENTRATED IN A FEW "MULTIPLE DIRECTORSHIP"

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Amsterdam, Netherlands, July 9.—
The Berlin Tagblatt in a financial article calls attention to the increasing danger of German financial power
being concentrated in the hands of a few through the growth of "multiple directorships." German bankers, it says, are rapidly accumulating directorships in all the concerns in which their banks are interested. Thus,
the number of directorships held by Louis Hagen, a Cologne millionaire,
is now 56; Karl Furstberg of Berlin
has 45; Herr von Schwabach has 42;
Baron Simon von Oppenheim and two or three others have 4 each; while there is a large group of bankers and industrial leaders who boast of between 3 and 40 each.

U. S. May Take Over Ship Yards to Halt Movement for Strike

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
New York, July 9.—The commander of the shipyards in New York and New Jersey districts by the United States government was predicted here today by an official of one of the large shipbuilding firms,
when informed that the government
contemplated calling a general strike
in all the yards unless the demands of those now out on strike were granted. Of the 12,000 men employed in the thirty-five shipbuilding plants
in this vicinity, it was said about 6,000
had struck. The men ask a wage of $4.50 a day, an increase of about 30
cents a day over the present scale.

GERMAN MINORITY SOCIALISTS OFFER PROGRAM OF PEACE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Stockholm, July 9.—Immediate conclusion of peace conditions which shall include establishment of an international convention to bring about
general disarmament, is the demand
of the international proletariat according to German minority socialists
who have just issued a manifesto.
The manifesto, which is a call to arms
in any country, regardless of nationality, race or religion is an imperative necessity. Other recommendations are:
Secret treaties must be abolished.
Modifications of frontiers must depend on the consent of the populations
concerned and must not be effected
by violence.
Annexations and indemnities shall be fixed on the basis of the right of nations to decide their own destinies.
Re-establishment of Serbia as an independent autonomous state is necessary.
The associations of the Polish people toward national unity is understood, but to concede the right to autonomy to Russian Poland and men-fuse it to Prussian and Austrian Poland is irreconcilable with the right
of nations to decide their own destinies.
Continuation of the war to establish this right as well as to solve the question of Alsace-Lorraine is condemned. An opportunity ought to be given Alsace-Lorraine to decide by referendum to which country it wishes to belong.
It is impossible to refuse Belgium
complete political independence and complete economic autonomy.
Belgian producers and consumers
must be made to share the burden of the war, particularly the restitution of economic losses, this having nothing
in common with war indemnities, which
are a burden on the masses.
The policy of colonial conquest is condemned.
The essential preliminary of a lasting peace is the renunciation of the right of nations in their relation with imperialist governments.
A peace program would be idle talk
unless supported by energetic international efforts of the masses.

CHIEF'S INVENTION AIDS STREET TRAFFIC

A traffic standard collected piecemeal and put together by Chief of Police P. D. Champion was placed at the Milwaukee-River streets intersection Saturday afternoon. The device which the police department has had
with it there the chief is planning to ack the city commission to order
enough standards so that on may be used on every street in the down town business district.
Up to Saturday the belief was had
that because of the car tracks in the center of the street it would be impossible to use this type of standard possibly, and for two years the street department and all city officials
have been attempting to devise some
method to keep traffic from the
center of the street, the "corner cutter"
being the most trouble. As long as
an officer was stationed in the center
of the intersection automobile drivers
and those on days and in right of
way would not turn with the precision of a company of crack troops,
but the moment the officer moved
from this spot the way they "cut" is
a crime.
Chief Champion decided to build a standard last week, and after rummaging through scrap iron piles of local junk dealers found a suitable heavy iron base, a piece of four-inch pipe about three feet long and an ornamental cap to fit the pipe. Then he painted a sign, "Keep to the Right,"
and hung it on the standard.
The chief said it did not matter
whether a company of crack troops, or
the street department and all city officials
have been attempting to devise some
method to keep traffic from the
center of the street, the "corner cutter"
being the most trouble. As long as
an officer was stationed in the center
of the intersection automobile drivers
and those on days and in right of
way would not turn with the pre-
cision of a company of crack troops,
but the moment the officer moved
from this spot the way they "cut" is

AIMING TOWARD PEACE?

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Amsterdam, July 9.—The Tagblatt
of Berlin says it is rumored that a change in the German chancellorship
may be expected. Among those mentioned as the possible successor of Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg it names Prince Von Beulow, former chancellor; Count Von Hertling, Bavarian prime minister, and Count
Von Roeder, secretary of the imperial treasury.

Count Von Hertling has had several conferences recently with Austro-Hungarian officials, presumably in regard to peace questions. He is said to favor peace without cash indenmity.
During the war Prince Von Beulow
has spent most of his time in Switzerland. He has been reported to the German government kept him in a detached position in expectation of calling him back when the time to arrange peace arrived, with the idea
that he could render greater service
on account of having had no share in the conduct of the war.

STILL DELAYS.

Congress still delays final action on that food bill and meantime the rest of the war preparations must mark time and wait for the endless debate to be finished. Just what the final outcome will be is hard to say, but indications are that when the final decision comes to an end a law will have been enacted that will enable the United States to continue to play its part in the war in a suitable manner and yet actually work no lasting hardships on any established industry.

President Wilson, however, has taken one step in the right direction for food conservation without waiting for congress by placing an embargo upon certain supplies that have hitherto been shipped freely to neutral nations and in many cases have found their way into Germany by certain underground methods. The list is not long, but is composed of the essentials of the business world, and consist of coal, coke, fuel, oil, kerosene, food grains, including buckwheat, food and feeds, meat and fats, and fertilizers. It also includes steel billets, ship plates and structural shapes, scrap iron, scrap metal, and ferro-manganese. Arms, ammunition, and explosives.

Had such an embargo been placed upon foodstuffs months ago it would have had its moral effect upon the world war and at the same time have conserved vast supplies which have found their way across the ocean when they were needed here at home. However, while congress wastes valuable time with useless arguments, President Wilson has acted, and it is hoped in time to prevent further distribution of the natural resources of a nation that needs all these same supplies at home or for the use of their allies.

A CASE OF BLUES.

Cheerful people are warned not to read what follows here. It is not even intended for people who have only occasional fits of the "blues." Indeed, this is meant for persons who are inclined to feel blue pretty near all the time. They may be so depressed by overwork or by illness, that they have fallen prey to the mis- taken idea that life is not worth liv- ing.

Often for them the normal ways of getting "cheered up" do no good. If you suggest some pleasant cause for hope, their tired minds quickly reject it. They can't go to sleep for think- ing how bad things are.

Now such people should try saying this to themselves: "Bad things are pretty bad, I don't see how they could be much worse, but at least I am ready and waiting to see how much worse they can get."

This may seem strange doctrine, but it has been known to help many a worried man or woman, when bet- ter and more helpful means fail. In the first place, it relaxes the strain of restless thinking about one's condi- tion. In the second place, there seems to be something about this attitude about this present that will appeal to a man if he has any good blood left in him at all.

Finally, it gives free play to the in- stinct of curiosity. At least, one can be curious to see what the next day will bring. Curiosity may have killed many a cat, but curiosity itself is a hard thing to kill. And if a man only stands by "the way how much worse things can get," still playing his part in the act, he can't be surprised how soon he may find things getting not worse, but better. Of course, the real answer to the question—"Is life worth living?" is simply, "That depends on the liver."

SOLDIERLY DISCIPLINE.

I say to you that the boys who are cheerfully accepting the duty of military service are giving all and getting nothing. It is very true that they are giving all to their country, and are entitled to full credit there- for. But they are really getting a great deal.

The private soldier may think he is at the bottom of the heap, and everybody's underlings, and a hard drudge and wretched cannon fodder. But he under- estimates his experience. The drilling in company with other men is giving him invaluable requirements of quick thought and accurate action.

He is learning to receive, compre- hend, and execute orders quickly and accurately. Under this discipline a great many slow-witted boys are mentally stimulated, and will come out of army life capable of quick, forceful, and resolute action. The physical benefits of the open air life are obvi- ous, and the mental advantages are no less important. Army life is a great school.

COMING EVENTS.

Preparations for coming Janes- ville fair are progressing right rap- idly and it is expected that the displays of fine stock, the race card with its entries of the cream of the light harness horses of the middle west, will prove the local institution to be among the growing fairs of the state. The directors of the Park association are all men who are much in earnest and devoting their personal time to- ward making the fair a success. The livestock show, stock-raisers in Rock and adjacent counties as well as by some of the big men in the cattle business in other parts of the country assure as fine a display as can be gathered for exhibition purposes. The grounds are being rapidly put in first-class shape and when the time actually comes for the fair to open its doors it will be one of the most complete exhibits that has been shown that will be presented for the public's approval.

THE SWIMMING HOLE.

Thanks to the hundred and fifty dollars which the city appropriated for construction of temporary bathing places the playground directors have constructed shelters where the young people, and it is to be hoped some of the older, can enjoy the water. It is unfortunate that such buildings can not be made permanent, but perhaps that will come in time. Meanwhile the temporary structures will answer the purpose and the "old swim- ming hole" will again be in operation.

Some of the summer boarders out in the country sit up as late as 9:30

p. m., but it is queer what they think is going to disturb the rural quiet at that unholy hour.

Some people never get the lawn mower sharpened after they get the lawn mowed, because the lawn doesn't need it then, and they never get it sharpened before they mow, because they can't spare it.

So far as we have yet heard, none of the government experts who advise the people to eat dogfish and whale steaks have yet laid in supplies of these foods.

Many people can't get out to cut the weeds and save the garden crop of vegetables, because it takes so much time to discuss the high cost of foods.

Many of the railroads are taking the luggage racks out of their cars, but then bundles can always be placed on your neighbor's feet.

The only favor the Germans ever show toward the idea of disarmament is when they drop their guns and run for the next trench in the rear.

The June bride has not probably learned to cook by this time, but she undoubtedly knows the location of all the bakery and cooked food shops.

"Miss Flora McFlimsy of Madison Square" who gained fame in the old days of having nothing to wear, would now pass unnoticed on the street.

The brass bands are largely en- gaged at the summer resorts which gives our hard working people at home a long needed rest.

The originator of the food con- servation movement was not Mr. Hoover, but Jack Spratt and his wife who licked the planter clean.

The college graduates have all gone out to harvest the crops, equipped with mandolins, banjos, and baseball masks.

You can't cool off the summer girls merely by mentioning that hot weather is good for the corn; it takes ice cream soda.

A veteran checker player is so democ- ratic that he won't play the game now unless the king row is abolished.

Many war poems would not pass the physical examination on account of having bad feet.

Couplet for our new soldier boys—
 Hep, hep!—more pep!

The summer girls all favor a moon- light saving scheme.

ON THE SPUR of the MOMENT

ROY K. MOULTON

IN SPITE OF THAT.

The lass who dwells where throbbles call
 And apple boughs are blowing,
 O, very fair is she, withal,
 She gets the poets going.

They sing of how they simply sigh
 To see her floating tresses,
 They mention that she takes the eye

In very simple dresses.

And strolls with her through Lilac Lane
 To heights of rapture bring 'em,
 Oh, how they love the country Jane
 Who wears a simple gingham!

My love alas, has never dwelt
 Where boughs with blooms are laden,
 Few fragrant breezes has she felt,
 She is a city maiden.

Her tresses seldom float, forsooth,
 Her folks, nor poor nor thrifty,
 And oh, to tell the bitter truth,
 Her clothes are rather ratty!

She's not a simple country dame,
 No boughs are sweet above her,
 And yet she's pretty just the same
 And anybody I love her!

TODAY'S SNEER.

Lots of men who can't make Expenses have wives who can make a lot.

BOTH.

It's hard to tell which of the two we like the best—the party
 who tells us old sage or that prize bore who always heard our best before.

The Busybody.

Or all the duffers that infest
 This mortal sphere the greatest pest
 Is he who thrusts that beak of his
 In everybody else's biz!

He isn't happy lest he shares
 The news of other folks' affairs,
 Unless he has a chance to snoot,
 His finger in another's soup, or put
 His nose in some one's business.

Or peck in other persons' mail—
 You say YOU like to now and then?
 Oh, well! That's something else
 again!

RED CROSS SUPPLIES ARE NEEDED BADLY

Report That Enough Have Been Provided is Branded as a Bit of German Propaganda.

Contrary to the popular impression that Red Cross hospital supplies are no longer needed, the national organization now makes an urgent plea to all workers to increase their output
 as rapidly as possible. The report circulated throughout the country
 that the Red Cross had on hand
 enough supplies to last for three years is declared to be absolutely without foundation and is branded as nothing
 short of German propaganda.

In an official communication received today from national headquarters it is stated that the enormous quantities of surgical dressings and hospital supplies made by the women of the country, working in Red Cross
 chapters, have all been sent abroad
 and an appeal for renewed effort in this phase of the work is made to all members to supply the constantly growing demand.

Under the noble leadership of President H. S. Lovejoy, Rock County has been organized to carry on the work in a most thorough manner.
 Over five thousand members have been enrolled in the main chapter
 here and in the branches which have been established in nearly every community of the county. Evansville,
 Edgerton, Milton, Milton Junction,
 Lima, Johnston and Rock Prairie, Orfordville, Clinton and Shopshire all
 have branch chapters, while auxiliaries
 have been established at Fulton,
 La Prairie, Magnolia and at the School for the Blind.

Footville and Willowdale have both
 asked for chapters and organization
 will be made at those points.

All of the chapters are working on the supplies needed by the armies at the front.

THE BREATH OF A NATION.

Synopsis of preceding chapters: Although all his life he has been as carefully nurtured as a hot house flower,
 shielded with tender care from all rough contact with life, Harold Claire resolves to become an officer and do his bit. Against the horrified protests of his family, who fear that this delicately reared youth will not be able to weather the rough winds of war, he reads Amos Tattle's "Officers and How to Become Them," and is given
 a commission as quarter-jointenant.
 Six months later, his first day of action, he is entrusted with the task of capturing a section of German trench,
 assisted by a company of Italian soldiers who are to join his men from the Italian right flank. Claire gives the order to advance and leads his men onward. A gust of poison gas smites them, but Claire, in spite of his sensitive nose, courageously
 pushes on, smiling and undaunted.
 He orders shells and burst
 about him, with encouraging shouts
 to his men he pushes his way through a hail of Pilsener shot. Suddenly on the brink of the enemy trench, the ranks behind him swell—the Italians
 have arrived!

Conclusion.
 Suddenly a terrible nausea took hold
 of Harold Claire.

"The Hunst!" he gasped. "What new devilry is this? I can swallow their poison gas, but this—"

And he fell, mortally stricken.

 lunched, and each had had a double
 ration of garlic.

Heart and Home Problems

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Are you a Swiss nationality considering your name?

(2) I have been in good health, but my skin breaks out in the form of pimples. Do you consider that a condition of the blood?

(3) Would you advise seeing a physician?

(4) Do you believe in fatal love? I mean a misplaced affection for a love you cannot forget?

(5) I would like to become an author, but have no education. I would like to do something worth while because I am tired of this hum-dum existence. Give me a few suggestions, please.

(6) I am a large percentage of them are of German descent. Is this the result of the condition of the blood? Use doesn't help, consult a physician.

(7) Some people unwisely cling to love that is not responsive. But I think cases of "fatal love" in these days are extremely few.

(8) First of all, you must have something to write about. Some ideas, and be on fire to tell other people about them. Unless you have something really worth while to say you cannot ever succeed as an author.

(9) Nothing is hum-dum. What you seem to want is excitement, but like everything else, if you aim directly for it, it will elude you. Try to be as interesting as you can. Others, and you will not be bothered by what you consider hum-dum now.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a young man for three years or more, and it has been about one year since we broke up our friendship. He was just a dear to me and he really loved me more than I can tell. He thought me a present and came to see me often. He is a splendid young fellow twenty-three years of age now, and I will be nineteen soon. He has asked me to marry him.

three times. I told him I was too young. I have been going out with young fellows but they have not appealed to me like the other boy. When he was around me I didn't want him much. He wanted me more than I wanted him. It has been so long since I went with him that I would like to have him back.

What makes me dream about him so much? Sometimes I dream two nights in succession about him. I don't know if I don't think about him. Sis and I talk about the other boys.

Before I gave him up, my father did not want me to go with him, and my mother did not like him. He is awful toward me and I dislike him now and always did. I can't make him act the way a good father ought to. I will never attempt to leave home. I did for about a week and I did not give him any information about where I was. I wrote to sis and he found out, and he came and got me. I had to go home. Please tell me what to do and how to win this young fellow back. He is dearer to me than anything else ever can be.

You think about the boys enough during the daytime to make you dream about him at night. I do not believe that dreams have any particular significance.

You have thrown away your chance to have the boy and now there is really nothing you can do except make the best of it as cheerfully as possible. I don't know of anything you can do to regain his love. He may decide to come back in time, if you do not assume an attitude of hostility toward him.

Stay at home because of your love for your mother and sister. Conditions will not always remain as they are. You will probably marry or there may be a change in your father. No matter what happens you will always be glad if you live at home as long as you can. Many girls have to put up with just as disagreeable conditions.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) When a young man takes me to a picture show, is it all right for him to slide down in his seat and put his head on my shoulder?

(2) This boy bought me popcorn. Was it right to eat it in the picture show?

(3) No, it is not proper.

(4) It all depends on the sort of theatre which you attend. In cheap picture shows everyone does it. In the better ones it isn't considered proper.

The Waste of War

is terrible, but the waste of food in times of peace is colossal. Rich and poor alike eat tons of food that has little food value—and this useless food breaks down the so-called eliminating organs and depletes the physical and mental powers.

Shredded Wheat Biscuit

is all food, prepared by a process which makes every particle thoroughly digested. It is 100 per cent. whole wheat. Two or three of these Biscuits with milk make a nourishing meal, supplying the greatest amount of energy at lowest cost. Delicious with sliced bananas, berries or other fruits. TODAY'S THRIFT THOUGHT

Here is an appetizing way to use that meat left from yesterday's roast, Madam Housewife.

Meat Pie
Cut meat in fairly small pieces. Stew in saucepan with a little water, longer gravy or soup, salt to taste, and such seasoning vegetables as onions and celery if desired. Thicken liquid with flour. Line baking dish with biscuit dough, put meat filling, cover with biscuit dough and bake in a medium oven.

The Business of Living

Eleanor Decides to Seek Work in Order to Support the Little Family

"Aunt Laura, the papers are full of advertisements for help. It does seem as if I could get something to do," Eleanor was saying to her eyes up and down the columns.

"You need a rest after the strain you have been undergoing. Let the money earning proposition rest until this fall," urged Aunt Laura.

"You are very kind, dear Aunt Laura, but I cannot rest. You must know that my only salvation is work, lots of work. Now is the time to find it when the ranks of labor are thinned by the war."

"I could do and still take care of the children."

"Now see here, my dear," Aunt Laura placed her hand on her niece's shoulder. "Listen to me in this at least. Leave the children here. They will have the best of care and—"

"I know that, dear, but it is my position to leave a baby less than two years old for you to care for. Cousin Mary is busy all the time with the house work on the farm. It would all fall on you," interrupted Eleanor.

"Margaret is a great help; she can take care of him and amuse him. I can see to his food and clothes, and not hurt my back at all," was the cheerful rejoinder.

"Jack could go with me and get something to do. Boys are getting good wages now. Perhaps I could do better than take a job."

"Eleanor rose and took the kind old face between her hands. "We could get a room somewhere and with an oil stove we could manage our breakfasts and suppers and get our dinners at a restaurant. Aunt Laura shook her head doubtfully.

"Look over this page and see what you think I had better look for. They beat over the paper together."

"It's mostly housework that is wanted. Here is one for a 'middle-aged widow to keep house for a widower with two little girls. Of course that is out of the question because I could not have my children with me. That I must do this winter some way."

"What about this 'Red Cross work' she continued. 'It says money can be made in the work. I supposed all the helpers were volunteers. There could not be enough money in it to aid much in our support. You see it is for shop girls, clerks and housemaids that the people are advertising.' There was a note of despair in Eleanor's voice. I must find myself for some special thing before I can earn anything. Every girl should have something that she could do in an emergency like this. She should be capable of earning her own living."

"The trouble is that she might be perfectly able to earn her way, but if she had a baby to care for there are very few things that she could do. You must realize that. You can sew very well and there is such a demand for work of that sort. I believe you might find something to do with the help of your friends."

"I could take home work to do, but it would have to be piecing a sewing for no one is going to trust an inexperienced seamstress with a dress," mused Eleanor.

"You have many friends who would help you get a start in that work. So many mothers need help in making children's clothes and doing mending and—"

"I suppose I might swallow my pride and go and ask for work," Eleanor's voice shook, but she looked steadily into her aunt's face. (To be continued.)

RHUBARB RECIPES THAT HAVE BEEN FOUND DELICIOUS.

Here are some delicious rhubarb recipes that have been tested by experts of domestic science.

Rhubarb Punch.
Cook rhubarb until soft if fresh, otherwise use canned. Mash through sieve. To each cup of rhubarb juice add three cups water and one-fourth cup sugar, the juice of a lemon, a half cup of strawberry juice or other fruit may be added if desired. Serve ice cold in glasses with a bit of mint leaf and red geranium in each glass. This is a delicious summer drink.

Rhubarb Ice.
Two stalks rhubarb.
One lemon.
One and one-half cups sugar.
Six cups water.
One tablespoon gelatin soaked in one-fourth cup cold water.
Cook rhubarb till tender and run it through a sieve. Cook sugar and water until it makes a good syrup. Add the gelatin and the cooled rhubarb. When cold add lemon juice. Strain and freeze.

Combination of Rhubarb With Other Fruits.
Can the rhubarb now, and later when putting up fruits use same with pineapple, strawberries and raspberries. These are more expensive but strongly flavored and when added to the rhubarb impart their flavor. This makes a cheaper product than the expensive fruits, but none the less delicious.

Rhubarb Conserve I.
Four pounds rhubarb.
Four oranges.
Four pounds sugar.
Three quarts water.
Wash and cut rhubarb into one-half-inch pieces. Scrub the oranges, slice through the rind into very thin sections, being careful to remove seeds. Cook the rhubarb and sliced oranges together for fifteen minutes, adding a very little water if necessary to prevent the fruit from burning. Add the three quarts of water and four pounds of sugar and allow the mixture to boil gently until syrup is thick and jelly like.

Rhubarb Conserve II.
Four pounds rhubarb.
One pound seedless raisins.
Four pounds sugar.
One lemon.
Two oranges.
Wash and cut rhubarb into one-half-inch pieces. Boil rhubarb, raisins and sugar gently twenty minutes, add juice of oranges and lemon and the rind of the oranges. Boil until syrup is thick and jelly like.

EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE

(Miss Hoyt will answer personally all letters pertaining to matters of etiquette addressed to her in care of this paper, if accompanied by a two cent stamp.)

At most dinners the dishes are all passed and the guests help themselves. The old-fashioned way in which the host and hostess heaped the plates of the guests is supplanted by this modern custom.

M. D. N.: For your note of thanks you should use note paper or correspondence cards with a narrow black border. The notes may be in some such form as this: "My Dear Mrs. X:—I wish to extend to you my appreciation and gratitude for your kind expressions of sympathy and your comforting assistance at the time of my recent bereavement. Such evidence of kindly thought is very helpful when one is sorrowing, and you have done all you could to lighten my burden. Most sincerely yours, etc. This for those who sent flowers you may say: "I wish to thank you for the lovely flowers you sent on the occasion of my husband's funeral. Such expressions of sympathy are very helpful and comforting, etc."

Mrs. C.: A married woman, when writing a business or a social letter, signs her name "Mrs. B. Smith," the initial representing her maiden surname. If her married title is unknown to her correspondent, she places it in brackets under the other signature, as ("Mrs. John Smith").

CROPS DOING FINE IN PAST 15 DAYS

The last fifteen days has formed the best growing period of the year, according to agriculturists today. All small grains are reported in good condition and spring wheat, oats and barley are heading. Millet and buckwheat are still being seeded. Oats are ripening and all fruit trees are looking well, with very little apple scab reported. Cranberries are said to be blossoming in many districts and although late, a good crop is anticipated.

Rains during the early part of the period interfered with hay cutting, the setting out of cabbage and tobacco plants and cultivating corn and garden truck, while early potatoes have been dug during the last few days.

DINNER GIVEN FOR DR. IRA LANDRETH

Janesville Management and Chautauqua Officers Entertain for Sunday's Speaker.

A pleasing social event was held yesterday when the local men who have been working for the Chautauqua interests improved the opportunity of meeting Dr. Ira Landreth and took dinner with him at the Park Hotel. Those who were present besides Dr.

Landreth were Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Krotz, Rev. and Mrs. Clark W. Cummings, Rev. T. C. Thoren, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holmes of this city, the management of the Chautauqua, Mr. Teuch, Mr. MacMahan and Mr. Treasurer, with the two young ladies who managed the banquet, and the eight young women who belonged to the Lyceum Arts Conservatory, were also present, and a cordial interchange of ideas along the line of Chautauqua work was given.

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana Renders You Service of Inestimable Value

It delivers to you a motor fuel in Red Crown Gasoline that is the acme of efficiency and is uniform at all times—no matter whether it is distilled from heavy or light crude—no matter whether you buy it in this state or that state.

Red Crown Gasoline is not an elementary chemical compound. Red Crown Gasoline is a physical mixture of a large number of such compounds, each one having a different boiling point.

Red Crown Gasoline is composed of fractions, having low, intermediate and high boiling points presenting a continuous chain, beginning at about 95 degrees Fahrenheit and ending above 400 degrees Fahrenheit, with no gaps, each one vaporizing at a different temperature.

RED CROWN Gasoline

contains the correct number of low boiling point fractions to insure easy starting when the engine is cold. Too many low boiling point fractions cause, in addition to starting troubles, undue evaporation in storage.

Red Crown Gasoline contains the correct number of intermediate, or higher, boiling point fractions to insure smooth acceleration. It contains the correct number of high boiling point fractions to insure a maximum of power. Too many high boiling point fractions cause carbon in the cylinders and on the spark plugs. Red Crown vaporizes to the last drop and leaves a minimum of carbon deposit.

HEALTH TALKS

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Girth Control

Every physician with the health and longevity of the race at heart feels real concern for the steadily increasing birth rate of American families. In the past forty years the average prosperous family in this country has grown larger and larger, and at present is approximately nineteen inches too large. Meat is largely to blame for this, and it is our duty to fight the prospect of at least three meatless days per week as a government provision. I stand ready to do my bit in backing the government in this effort to diminish the disgracefully large birth rate of this country. We should deport about two-thirds of our meat. That would free about four-fifths of our doctors for army service.

Meat isn't especially fattening in itself; that is, lean meats are not. But a meat eater obtains not only nutrition from his meat, but also the excitement and intoxication. The intoxication is the stimulation of the excretives of the meat; such stimulation as an invalid derives from meat broth, which is notorious agency of heart disease. The sense of well-being a meat eater feels directly after his meal is not stimulation, of course; it is not nourishment, for the nourishment he is to derive from the meat cannot be assimilated and utilized within an hour or two at least. He is mildly intoxicated by the non-nutritive but stimulating meat excretives.

In this state of mild intoxication his appetite is abnormally excited, and he eats a lot more than his metabolism demands or can care for without strain.

Provided he is blessed, or damned, as you prefer, with a very competent, efficient, gland apparatus, which enables him for the time being to carry the load, to oxidize the food, and to eliminate the waste, he gets along fairly well, but ultimately the best of thyroids and the most perfect of adrenals must tire, and then Mr. Henry Bacter gets into the picture. At the same time his metabolism begins to be a trifle shorter than it used to be, and poor H. B. enters upon a twenty-year quarrel with his liver, stomach, and other unsatisfactory appendages.

His wife, poor thing, is in even worse plight. H. B. is prosperous, and Mr. H. J. just eats her way to forty. Her gall-sac is never quite above suspicion; some surgeon is pretty sure to strike ere there one never-to-be-forgotten day. Have three meatless days a week and join the Bread and Milk Club. To Germany with the butchers!

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Treatment for Hernia
I have a hernia at the base of the abdomen, caused by a fall four years ago. I am considerably under weight and have been since I developed the hernia. Have never worn a truss. Am 30 years of age. Would you advise an operation? If so, how long would I have to remain in the hospital? D. G.

ANSWER.—It is the only cure for hernia or rupture, and for one so young it would be good economy to submit immediately to the operation. Usually about three weeks is the period of complete rest required.

I was much interested in what you said to say on the subject of left handedness. One of my children was born left-handed, but I coaxed her to use her right, which she does pretty well now for the past two years. But she stammers a lot. Several doctors have told me it is her nerves and the only cure is plenty of fresh air, so we moved to a suburban residence. She is outdoors all day, weather permitting, but does not improve much. Do you think it would be advisable to teach her to use her left hand again? (H. J.)

ANSWER.—Yes, by all means. Even in naturally right-handed persons, transference to left-handedness has cured stammering or stuttering when everything else failed. The forced transfer from left-handedness in childhood to artificial right-handedness is wholly harmful and unjustifiable thing. It probably accounts for many a case of stammering, as well as nervous incompetency.

Rubbing
I should like to know if rubbing the scalp is good for the hair. A friend told me not to rub the fingers through the hair but just to roll, squeeze or move the scalp on the head. Which is the better? (G. S. B.)

ANSWER.—Your friend was right. You are working on the scalp, not on the hair. You are trying to squeeze out old blood and admit fresh blood to the scalp.

People Who Make Hard Work of Living.
There's the people who miss happiness because they make such hard work of living—the woman who is winding and unwinding the man, always worrying and scolding and blaming. People like that not miss much happiness themselves, but they make the people they love miss it. And those who miss happiness because they abuse and impair their health. Health is one of the organs with which we digest our happiness. It is almost as hard to be happy when one is unhealthy as it is to enjoy food with an upset stomach.

People Haven't Much Capacity for Happiness
And then there are the people so self-centered, so lacking in broader sympathies, so undeveloped mentally for happiness. "A small glass and a large one may be equally full but the large one holds more than the small."

Of course this is nonsense. A happy person has little knowledge or human nature as to seek happiness by changing anything but his own disposition will waste his life in fruitless efforts.

EFFICIENT IN HAPPINESS.

"It's not so much we have but how much we enjoy that makes happiness," Spurgeon.

We were talking about a woman the other day the keynote of whose life seems to be restless discontent. "She doesn't have everything she wants, of course," said Mr. J. "But she seems to get the least possible happiness."

"I think," said the lady who always knows somehow "what the trouble is that she just isn't efficient about happiness. She seems to get the least happiness instead of the most out of the circumstances of her life."

Of how many people that is true! We see them all about us—or even nearer home than that.

There are so many ways that one can get happiness if one is happy-minded, and so many ways one can miss it if one is inefficient.

The Real Adventure

A NOVEL

By Henry Kittell Webster

(Copyright 1916, The Bobbs-Merrill Company)

He said it not unkindly, but he exercised some power of making it evident that as he finished speaking, the duchess, for him, simply ceased to exist. Then, with disconcerting suddenness, he looked straight at Rose and said: "What do you want?"

She'd thought him tall, but he wasn't. He was looking on a perfect level into her eyes.

"I want a job in the chorus," said Rose.

"You heard what I said to that other woman, I suppose?"

"Yes," said Rose, "but . . ."

"But you thought you'd let me say it to you again."

"Yes," she said. And, queerly enough, she felt her courage coming back.

"What professional experience have you had?" he asked.

"I haven't had any."

He almost smiled when she stopped there. "Any amateur experience?" he inquired.

"Quite a lot," said Rose; "pageants and things, and two or three little plays."

"Can you dance?"

"Yes," said Rose.

He said he supposed ballroom dancing was what she meant, whereupon she told him she was a pretty good ballroom dancer, but that it was gymnastic dancing she had in mind.

"All right," he said. "See if you can do this. Watch me, and then imitate me exactly."

Ask Badger Womanhood To Register Today For All Lines Of War Labor

Wisconsin women have been called to the colors! All must register, beginning today.

From the grand mother or great-grand mother, bent by the weight of 75 years, down to the 12 year old lass, all are to have opportunity to serve Uncle Sam in the great war. Some will labor on the farms, others in the factories, in the professions, in the offices, in the clerical work, in the industrial world.

And when President Wilson calls for Badger womanhood he will find the state prepared.

By July 15 the state council of defense will have completed house to house canvass of the state. Every woman between the ages of 12 and 75 years is to be registered. Cards similar to those used for the registration of America's men will be filled out and signed and filed away by the defense board for future reference.

The following questions are to be answered:

Name and address, telephone number if any must be given.

Married or single.

Color or race and country of birth.

Citizen by birth or naturalization.

Persons dependent upon those registering if any.

Whether service is volunteer, whether pay is to be paid only or salaries to be paid.

Time pledged for service.

Present occupation.

By whom employed.

References.

Education.

Will you go anywhere.

How soon can you start.

Among the kinds of work which the women are asked to select are dairying and other kinds of farm work, the different branches of clerical work including accountants and stenographers, domestic work, including the care of children; cooking, sewing and waiting on table, and the different lines of work in the industrial world. Among these include boarding house managers, dressmakers, manicure and hair dressers, milliners and saleswomen.

In the professional activities for which women may enlist are found actress, architect, artist, author, chemist, dentist and journalist. Under the head of public service women are asked to enlist for the duties of mail carriers, police patrol, telegraph, and telephone operators, viatrix, and drivers of horse and motor cars, motor cycle power boats and railroad work.

The social service is not to be neglected and recruits will be sought for work in hospitals, on playgrounds, for relief visiting and to back dancing, music and reading clubs.

The usual line of work in connection with the Red Cross and relief is also in the list. In addition to the offering of their services as volunteers, women are asked to contribute to the war assets of the nation. Among the suggestions which are to be made to the women in deciding upon what to give are automobiles, homes, conveniences, hospitals, hospitals, motor boats, motor cars, typewriters, to furnish a driver for a car, or to share their homes with a widow or children.

In making the registration cities are divided into wards, precincts and blocks, placed in charge of captains, and groups of women are given a certain number of blocks to canvass.

Dinner Stories

A palatial touring car had attracted the attention of a visitor to Boston and he asked his friend:

"Who is the man seated in that large car?"

The Bostonian glanced in the direction indicated and replied:

"That is the poet laureate of a well-known biscuit factory."

"Now, Johnny," asked the gentleman who had consented to teach the Sunday School class, "what does the fascinating story of Jonah and the whale teach us?"

"It teaches us," said Johnny, whose father writes practical articles of practical people, "that you cannot keep a good man down."

The young heir to the castle and estates of Blosgen answered his mother's angry summons with feelings that were anything but courageous.

"You bad boy!" exclaimed the frate parents. "Where are all those tarts I left in the pantry?"

"I don't know," answered the culprit, "they seem to have vanished into empty air."

She considered it her duty to correct Tommy's frequent. Some times she lets acts pass, but even with that margin there still remained so

Prussians Rule With Iron Rod In Territory Captured In France, Frenchman's Diary Shows

Note.—The second of the series of stories by William Philip Simms, written from the war diary of a French citizen of Savoy, follows:

With the French Armies in the field, July 9.—The Prussians with an iron rod in the occupied territory of France, as the following items from the diary of an inhabitant of the village of Savoy, a few miles to the west of St. Quentin, clearly show.

April 25 (1915). The Garde Champetre (village constable) has been ordered to inform farmers they are not to cut any hay or clover under 500 francs penalty.

April 26. Germans make house to house search for grain. The garde distributes forms to be filled out by farmers showing how much grain they are planting.

May 1. Russian prisoners brought to house search for sugar beets for the Germans.

May 4. The inhabitants have been deprived of bread four days because M. Lebrun, the baker, is refused flour unless he buys it with German money.

May 10. Germans employing Russian soldiers have broken the last four millstones in Gromier's mill.

May 11. The Germans have shared all sheep and taken the wool.

May 21. Beginning today Lebrun is baking bread made of American flour. The ration is 250 grams per head per day.

May 22. Today is Pentecost. The cure went to Etrochiers to celebrate mass but as he had no laissez-passer the Germans seized him, took him in a cart to Holnon and fined him 50 francs.

May 25. Rumor that Italy had declared war against Germany.

July 1. The garde was sent by the commandant to Henri Catry's house to ask how many wagons he had in his barn. Catry's only answer was to hit him in the face, and he is to go to prison in St. Quentin for fourteen days.

July 21. Notice on church doors states men, women, girls and boys will continue to be requisitioned for work in the fields between 4 a. m. and 8 p. m. Those who idle in the fields will be hit with sticks. Those who refuse to work will be put into prison.

July 23. This morning garde announced that all civilians must salute German officers, men by tipping hats, women by bowing. Fine or imprisonment for refusal.

July 25. The general census of horses owned had to stand at their horses' heads for six hours. When Catry happened to be standing two yards away from his horse and he was hit with a stick by a German gendarme. When he protested he was beaten more severely. An old man lay down by his horse and was beaten and made to stand up. Others were treated in the same brutal manner.

July 28. Germans are making the rounds examining every house for bronze and brass objects.

August 17. All fruit must be picked and turned over to the Germans.

October 15. Rumor of French victory in Champagne.

October 25. American committee has offered carbide lamps. They can be had at town hall.

October 31. The Germans who arrived on Oct. 19 have left. They burned M. Biget's shop and other places too.

November 18. Sale of milk to civilians forbidden. Same must be kept for six Germans.

January 1 (1916). From 11 p. m. on last night Germans saluted 21 times by firing cannons, machine guns and rifles. The projectiles were specially made and at very great height produced colored and bright light.

The whole village was illuminated with electric lights. The wood of Athilly was wholly illuminated.

January 6. Copper taken from Gromier's brewery. At Savoy cannot provision himself, even a soap. The Germans have taken everything.

many occasions for the correction of Tommy that she was getting pretty tired of doing it.

"Tommy," she said wearily, "why do you scratch my head?"

"Because nobody else knows just where it itches," said the little boy.

During an inquest held in Cincinnati, the following question was put up to one of the witnesses by the deputy coroner:

"Where was the deceased struck by the motor car?"

Whereupon the witness, a surgeon, replied: "At the juncture of the dorsal and cervical vertebrae."

The deputy coroner looked puzzled. "Will you please point out
